GLADES' POST OFFICES SHOW MARKED GROWTH IN FEW YEARS

Glades postal facilities have improved considerably since a bean hamper on the dock at East Beach was an effective unofficial distribution point for letters to early settlers. Early postal facilities on Kramer Island and at Bear Beach were but forerunners of Belle Glade's ultra-modern quarry keystone building and the other very adequate facilities at Canal Point and South Bay to name but two.

When the post office was established in November 1917, Pahokee's name was new, having formerly been East Beach, and her postal requirements were served by a table with separators on top large enough for all the mail received then. Early timers say that Dr. Merrill was first postmaster and his station was in Savage's general store where the City Hall now stands. There may be some to question the correctness of this statement and there are, Ed. Jensen, the postmaster, today would be delighted to have facts on early postal history.

Belle Glade Post Office, the sixth largest in the county, is the only first class post office in the Glades, according to George P. Farnall, postmaster since March 8, 1930. Mr. Farnall has seen the Belle Glade office grow from fourth class position in 1930 to first class July 1, 1953. He related how prosperity and adversity, wind and wave and storm have effected postal receipts which thus are a barometer for statisticians and those interested in the history of the post office facilities. High water in 1947 and 1948 caused a considerable drop in postal receipts, stamps, box rents, second (Continued on Page 9)

3 FOLD GAIN IN BG PERMITS

BELLE GLADE — July 1954 building permits totaled $392,740, a three fold increase over the same period five years ago when figures were $139,850. This year's building report summarizes 65 permits issued for new buildings and repairs to existing structures, according to N. B. Willis, city building inspector.

With issuance of a permit for $262,000 for the new Negro high school along with $31,000 for an adjacent field house, $393,000 was added to the year's figure in one project. Of 42 permits totaling $12,625.31 were for erection of TV antennae and the balance for repairs to structures. One permit, largest in its classification, was for 12 efficiency apartments under a contract for $33,000. There were also permits for a four unit apartment for $18,000 and a triplex for $25,000. New construction, repairs, and additions took up the rest of the permits issued, said Willis.

SOUTH BAY TAX ROLL TO BE SET

SOUTH BAY — Tuesday's commission meeting recessed until next Monday at 7 p.m. when it will make up the assessment roll in preparation for a meeting Aug. 17 at 8 p.m. At that time the commission, sitting as a board of equalization, will hear those aggrieved parties wishing to protest assessments against their real and/or personal property.

Mayor Fisher presided at Tuesday's meeting and Commissioners Kelly, Jeffries and Allen were present to authorize issuance of building permits totaling $5,000. Commissioner Kelly was appointed as a committee of one to see what arrangements will be possible to give the playground supervisor, Miss Mertis Gillman, a week's leave of absence. Also it was decided to erect a suitable base for the bronze plaque indicating that the playground equipment is a gift to the community.

Appointment of Commissioner Allen to look into the possibilities of parking space adjacent to the new Baptist church was made by Mayor Fisher. Allen was decided to bring SW 4th Avenue and First Street, South to grade as soon as possible.

A salary increase to Ben Austin, head of sanitary department was approved and bills were paid with the exception of one to Roemer Motors which was taken under advisement.

AREA CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE DISCUSS BUDGETS, SIGNS

PAHOKEE — A director missing two instead of four consecutive regular meetings without reasonable excuse will be dropped from the board at the discretion of the board as a result of action taken Monday night by the Pahokee Chamber directors.

Balloting on the issue was heavy, 122 voted and of this number only three opposed the change in by-laws. The by-law change will be invoked the first meeting in September, Tuesday after Labor Day. Directors effected are Gordon Hillier and Elsworth Keene. Leonard Dobrow, president of the Chamber, presided at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office. He was directed by the board to appoint two representatives from Pahokee to work on county zoning as representatives from Pahokee. Breakwater chairman Moon presented evidence in letters replying to requests for information indicative of interest in a breakwater. The directors decided, on the basis of this display of interest, to visit a future, Palm Beach Port Authority board meeting en masse to request action.

The "Welcome" sign issue was resolved when it was decided to call upon a professional sign company asking for erection, maintenance and repair estimates.

BELLE GLADE — Signs advertising Belle Glade to motorists and attracting them to the city will continue to be maintained on a lease basis including maintenance, according to the proposal of the advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Meeting at the Chamber building Friday morning, the advertising committee planned its budget for fiscal 1954-1955 for presentation to the city manager for inclusion in the city's proposed budget figures. The morning agenda included a display of sample 8 x 10 "Welcome" signs that will include a line indicating that information can be gotten at the Chamber of Commerce. In addition a small amount for their maintenance was set up.

Discussion ensued on the advisability of advertising the community on trucks by the display of appropriate signs. Another promotional idea centered around having Belle Glade featured in Glades' tours which would include on their itineraries visits to packing houses, and other points of interest.

Promotion of the community through brochures, and a budgetary provision for same, was discussed as was the "muck bag" program. It was decided to enclose the sacks of earth in a 2

Spoil Is Aired

BELLE GLADE — In special session after the public hearing on Hillsboro Canal, Tuesday, the Commission met in special session and:

AGREED to remove the 16 inch water main across Hillsboro Canal within 90 days from date to permit contractor to deepen canal at that point without impediment;

DESIGNATED the spoil areas where contractor can dump rock removed from canal within city limits; and EXECUTED a deed to Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District conveying additional right of way for canal adjacent to city dump. Provision made that city could remove rock from right of way provided it is used for public purposes.

BELLE GLADE — Anticipated deepening of Hillsboro Canal as part of Central and Southern Florida Flood Control project poses problem for Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce sought to air in a public hearing Tuesday at City Hall.

Chamber President George Wedgworth posed questions and FCD Engineer Lamar Johnson along with George Snodgrass and B. Arnold, both U.S. Army Engineers, discussed them.

F.C.D., U. S. Engineers and the construction company doing the job were represented. The latter by Project Engineer C. M. Weisenfeld and his assistant Charles H. Miller. Approximately 75 interested citizens participated in the discussions. Mayor Rabin, the city commissioners, City Attorney Claude Jones and City Manager Tom Carle were present.

Inconvenience Cited The inconvenience Belle Glade can expect from the project which will move 150,000 cubic yards of wet material through the town was uppermost in the minds of the citizenry. Mayor Rabin keynoted the meeting when he said he wanted no misunderstanding on the basis point, namely, that Belle Glade is glad to have the work done and will cooperate in every way to expedite it. He stated that the city wanted to cooperate, but that it wanted to know what it might expect from the contract job being done in its midst.

Disposal of Spoil In answer to a question it was clear that the contractor can dispose of the spoil at his own discretion. Should it be necessary for him to pile spoil on the south side of the canal in the city limits until he can haul it away, he may do so during the period of his contract. Material deposited on the south side and constructing city projects will have to be obtained by mutual city-contractor agreement.

Plan Three Mr. Snodgrass, U. S. Engineer, outlined plans for project, and said that under Plan Three, to be bid on the 27th of this month, no changes will be made effecting the width of the present canal. Plans call for deepening the canal but not for widening it. Beginning at the hurricane gate, work will proceed along the canal and a golf course on the north side of the canal with spoil going on top of the golf course dike and the remainder to the top of the dike.

From the golf course to the highway bridge in the center of the city work will be done on the State Road on the canal. Snodgrass made it clear that permits can not be obtained from the State Road Department to use the State road on the north side for a working area and for that reason the south side has to be used.

Robert Tylander, attorney for FCD, in answering a question about disruption of communications to that area said that such inconveniences were deplorable (Continued on Page 8)

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON — The Senate emerged from the longest filibuster in history last week with no lasting damage to anyone, and with a sounder piece of legislation as a result of the exhaustive (and somewhat exhausting) debate.

The controversy over the proposed revision of the Atomic Energy law developed a degree of bitterness because it pitted against each other two extreme views—that the government should control all atomic development and distribution as opposed to the view that government should have no part in such development. This produced a strange alignment indeed, of the normally conservative who are close to the TVA and of those who believe in socialism.

A number of amendments were adopted to effect safeguards against either extreme. Many of us feel that there has been directed to a "happy medium" approach to this problem, a great improvement of atomic power for peaceful civilian use. In the interests of the entire nation, the broadcast position of the United States in this particular phase of atomic energy development. Government and private industry should cooperate, with the principal purpose to advance atomic power uses for the welfare of all people.

It was unfortunate that during the course of the debate intense personal feeling was engendered, involving a few individuals. I was among those seeking a "happy medium" and one of the reasons I never became involved in the floor debate was that I was devoting my energies to efforts to save friendships, and to avert permanent schisms among those who must work together for the good of the nation. I am satisfied that the "peace" achieved is genuine.

Housing and Home Finance Agency has advised that a loan of $600,000 has been approved for the University of Florida. This will be matched by a fund of $225,000 from the University to finance construction of three dormitories and high school dormitories for women, each to house about 40 students or a total of 120 men students and 120 women students. Gainesville campus, nearly 3,000 occupy housing facilities.

MOVING DAY: Washington has finally said a reluctant so-long to Bill and Betty Lanfart. Last weekend saw them take off for Florida, not to come back except for a few short stops and ends visits before Dante Fascell takes over his office. Friends of Bill in both the House and Senate—Republicans and Democrats—all say that Florida is losing a real asset in Washington. Many of their friends still are wondering why one of the most promising of all the young men in Congress should give up his seat in the House to return to Miami and private business. The general feeling seems to be that he just can't get out of public life—and we are all watching to see what his next move is. In this first step in a long range plan to get ready for the governor's race in 1959? Only Bill can tell us and he isn't.

BY SCHATZI

Dear Maybelline:
Your letter telling me about Lord Brandewine and his pal "Whistle" being lost was very disturbing. As you know Lisa and I have very little opportunity to wander off because (1) our legs are short and we can't go very far before one or the other of the bosses bears down upon us when we have just gotten started on the neighbor's garbage cans, and (2) there is a wire fence under which we cannot maneuver our frames and also there is that insulting sign that calls us "rovers" and warns customers, friends and neighbors to close the gate lest our propensities take shape.

Back to "Bill" Williams' dog, fellow granger of dogdom with the best English pointer blood flowing in their youthful veins. From what you told me it seems that they got tired of being penned up awaiting their rabies shots and along with their female counterpart, Patsy, decided out for the wild blue yonder. Fortunately, Patsy came back yesterday and then presented "Bill" with two fine puppies. What a wonderful companion in threeshank for freedom from shots and regular meals and attentive care, seems to be the way of the world for the good home he has always shared with Bill. Anyway, Maybelline, I hope you will do your best to get the puppies out of Bill's bad luck so that they can help him search. You mentioned that they are both boys, which is less than ideal and wandered off into the Canal Point area.

Maybelline, it reminds me of your stories about your neighbors at the Lodge at Port Mayaca. "Colonel" William Evans "Doc" and "Pete" were prone to tricks of this sort. As good a home, in fact a concrete run with hot and cold running water, well almost, and they would, when occasion offered, leave security for that unpredictable neither region known as the "outside world" and be gone for days. You can take heart though that these two have always returned footsore, banged up, hungry, and looking as only we dogs can—to mix similar-looking sheepish and begging to be taken back into good graces.

Of course my ancestors in Egypt were worshipped as gods and even the Pharaohs took trowel in hand and laid out courses of stone work to begin monuments to my forebears such as we see today. Unfortunately we cannot document any Ramezes or Tut who actually liked to putter along the Nile walls and such, but I tell you this so that you and Lisa will not get too conceited about your accomplishments.

A sinuous note and then I'll crawl off for this week: Did you read that an army of cobras is rampant in Iran? From reports, the high water in flooded areas has driven my distant cousins out of their holes in the Razavi mountain area of Iran. Barefooted Iranians slaughtered the cobras with rocks and sticks and the count of the Red Cross there is called the Red Lion Sun, rushed snake serum to the area by donkey and horseback over ancient caravan trails.

I look forward to your recital of vacation events upon your return.
Limpidly,
Maybelline

Dear Schatzi:
I was rightfully offended the other day when vacationers returned from Virginia and said they were reminded of me when they saw Thomas Jefferson's serpentine wall at Monticello. I quickly pointed out to my de-that propaganda... the creative relationship that has been worked out between the American union and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico is an eloquent manifestation of a good neighborly relationship, the spirit of the United States.

Puerto Rico, with a population of 2,210,000 people in an area of only 3,423 square miles, has become the strongest government in the Caribbean and may be considered the United States Gibraltar of that area. Great advancement has been noted in all fields, until now this once impoverished problem territory has the highest standard of living in the Caribbean. Even those who have been most aggressive in their advocacy of statehood for our remotely situated territories have been frank to admit that the Commonwealth status for Puerto Rico has been proudly successful. Enlightening in this aspect of the Puerto Rico story as told by the Governor.

"No matter how sincerely a man may have been bemused by propaganda aimed against the United States, when he realizes that he sees in Puerto Rico the realization that on six occasions within five years our people have voted overwhelmingly against independence, against statehood, against colonialism and in favor of this joint experiment in statehood which constitutes a massive answer to

East Lake Program Ends

Activities of the Summer Recreation program sponsored by the Board of Public Instruction at the East Lake School in Pahokee ended on Friday, July 30. The Weather Man cooperated by providing one of the most pleasant days of the summer. Directors of the program feel that it has been successful despite certain difficulties in setting up the program of this type for the first time. Certainly it filled a civic need in providing leisure time activities for the many children who live in the community during the dull summer months with but little to occupy their time and minds. A total of 103 were registered during the six weeks of the program. The number included many of these children living in the Everglades Project of the Pahokee Housing Authority. There were other eligible children who did not register. This fact alone more than justifies the existence of such a program in Pahokee, according to the directors.

Highlights of the program included the organization of a softball team and summer choir. The team played a total of nine games against three opposing teams, losing only two games in the series. The first game was played last Wednesday night in the City Recreation Park against the Tigers of Lake Shore Recreation Center in Belle Glade. A double header, Pahokee won both games, providing much fun and many thrills for the crowd of fans who filled the bleachers.

The appearance of the summer Children's Choir in Miami on the Youth Day program sponsored by one of the Grand Lodge Sessions of one of our state fraternal organizations was hailed with much enthusiasm. The choir has an invitation to return next summer when the session will convene in Orlando.

We are grateful to all those persons whose kind consideration and generosity have made it possible for us to conduct this schedule of activities in the face of many obstacles and handicaps which the initiation of such a program presents. Our special thanks go to the Pahokee City Council, Mr. F. S. Parrish, chairman, Mayor Lewis Friend, Mr. T. W. Knight for cash contributions totaling $65.00 with which equipment and uniforms were bought; to Coaches Howard and Thoburn of the City Recreation Department for their kind suggestions and assistance; to Messrs. Barnes and Benniefield for aid in problems of transportation; and to all those whose interest and encouragement have made this first effort successful.

Limpidly,
Maybelline

ROBBERVATIONS

By BENJAMIN S. ROBERTS

How prepared are we for war? Prepared, that is, emotionally and intellectually. Never in our own history have we declared our enmity in such direct verbal rebuttals to counter his assaults as we are doing today. On Sunday, Stewart Symington, in a press release, set forth our position as it is opposed to Russia's. On Monday Walter Bedell Smith stated where we stood versus Russia.

These statements and others which are sure to come from Washington are indicative of the emotional climate that is being prepared for us.

Call these statements trial balloons or polls of opinion, whatever their names, Washington wants to know how the populace will react to moving closer and closer to war.

On the intellectual front the public is well prepared—at least it has had every opportunity to weigh the factors involved. Whether we have absorbed the available information and made mature judgments upon it is again another matter. Probably we have not done so. In denying ourselves conclusions because we failed to make deductions from the enormous amount of material we are given we have been untrue to the principle to which we give lip service.

Militarily we have prepared ourselves for conflict. In this material field where guns can be counted and bombs displayed.

Any credit for the success of this program is due to their unflinching interest and assistance. Stanleigh Murrell, Principal of the East Lake School, was in charge of the center during the summer.

Weddings and Engagements

ELROD - MILLER

Miss Barbara Jean Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, Pahokee, became the bride of Cpl. James E. Elrod, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Elrod, sr., of Clewiston, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the Church of God at Barfield Highway.

The Pastor, Rev. Lewis McKee, officiated. The bridesmaids were exchanged at the altar decorated with palms, baskets of gladioli, and a white trellis vine with greenery and white flowers.

Miss Arlene Rainier, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "Because of You". She was accompanied by Miss Rose Marie Henderson, pianist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white crystal tulle, designed with a fitted bodice, a ballerina length skirt, with which she wore a white lace bolero made with a Peter Pan collar. Her white lace mitts were elbow length and had a veil of white illusion was shoulder length. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Miller, mother of the bride, wore a pink and white silk print with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. Mrs. George Rushing, aunt of the bride, served the cake, and Mrs. J. R. Miller, jr., also an aunt, the punch. Derother Rushing, a cousin of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Large of West Palm Beach, uncle and aunt of the bride, were among those attending the wedding.

Following a brief honeymoon on the east coast, the bridal couple returned to Pahokee. Cpl. Elrod will report at Camp Lejeune, N.C. Sunday where he is stationed, following overseas duty in Korea. Mrs. Elrod plans to join her husband later.

SINUSITIS

When an infection is present in any one of the eight sinuses, little canals or cavities in the facial bones of the skull, the condition is known as sinusitis.

As the infection develops, the attack is characterized by symptoms such as the common cold—stinging, itching and itching of the nasal passages, draining of the nasal secretions and a soreness in the affected areas. Because of the swelling of the nasal tissue, there is difficulty in breathing.

Allergy seems to be a factor in many cases of sinusitis. Just as the sufferer with hay fever registers his complaint of itchy nose and eyes, so does the victim of sinusitis.

Some of the newer medications have been beneficial in relieving sinusitis, particularly the acute stage. However when the condition becomes chronic and the passages swell and close, thus preventing drainage, the physician may employ instruments to open them.

Sinusitis patients are the target of many marketed "cure-alls." Inhalators, sprays and pledges containing medications are among products peddled to relieve the sufferer. Because the lining of the nose and its general makeup is sensitive, a person would be wise to refrain from their use unless recommended by a physician. Many a harm in good can be accomplished unless properly administered.

If sinus trouble is suspected, a thorough examination should be made by a doctor. If the sinuses are congested, these passages may be present. These can create an obstruction which ultimately causes the infection to spread.

When an examination rules out the presence of bacteria or virus, x-rays prove that no malformation exists, it is frequently necessary to click the end of the nose of the patient since tension may be a factor in this disturbance.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

How the individual can find true joy, health, and courage through gaining a spiritual understanding of God will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" is the Golden Text from Galatians (5:22,23): "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law."

"The blessings bestowed on man by God, divine Spirit, will also be brought out in readings from 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (8:28-30): 'Spirit blesses man, but man cannot 'sell' where it counsels. By it sick are healed, the sorrowing are comforted, and the sinning are reformed.'"

From the Bible, the following passage will be among those read (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

IT'S UP TO YOU By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

The communist world is striving to stimulate worship and a belief in God from the hearts and minds of the millions of people under its control. In America our devotion to religion leaves much to be desired, but our people increasingly recognize the presence and power of God by joining churches and worshiping in greater numbers.

Hereafter, everywhere we pledge our loyalty to our flag and country, we shall reaffirm our belief in God as being higher than the nation itself.

In seeking senate approval of the resolution to add "under God" to the pledge of allegiance Senator Ferguson said:

"We are asking that only two words be added to the pledge of allegiance, but they are very significant words."

"I have felt that the pledge of allegiance to the flag which stands for the U. S. of America should recognize the CREATOR who we really believe is in control of the destinies of this great republic of ours."

"We are now living in a world divided by two ideologies, one of which affirms its belief in God, while the other does not. One part of the world believes in the inalienable rights of people under the CREATOR. The other part of the world believes in materialism and that the source of all is the state itself."

"When we ask our Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and other young people, who take the pledge of allegiance to the flag more than do adults, we should remind them that it is not only a pledge of words but also of belief."

Let us take this pledge of loyalty to God and country with full dedication of mind and heart that this Republic shall be passed on to our descendants as the citadel of liberty "under God."

"...and in Thine hand is there no power and might, and here, none is able to withstand Thee."

"Be not afraid nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the battle is not yours but God's." (2 Chronicles 20:15)

BC ROTARY HEARS OF RECREATION PROGRAM

The directors of the summer recreation program reviewed their work at the regular meeting of the Belle Glade Rotary Club last Friday noon. The summer recreational program is sponsored jointly by the City of Belle Glade and the Board of Public Instruction of Palm Beach County. John Monroe introduced Coach Calvin Peacock who was in charge of the sports activities for the boys. He gave a brief resume of the entire program. He talked about the physical activities which included badminton, boxing, croquet, golf, horseshoes, shuffle board, softball, swimming, table tennis, tennis, volleyball and basketball. He called attention to the fact that there are 49 recreational centers in the county and out of the 49 Belle Glade had the largest, with an average attendance of 250 children, putting in five hours daily. He told about the reading club, story time and movies and numerous indoor table games.

History of Programs Coach Peacock introduced Mrs. Paul Jones who spoke on the history of the recreational programs since it began in 1947 on a state-wide basis. The reason for starting it was that there was a great waste of school facilities in the county and by combining the summer recreational program with the city recreational program they were able to have a better program because they could use their facilities along with the school's. She explained that the school board furnished the directors salaries but nothing to work with, and the city supplied this need. She mentioned the fact that many had cooperated to make the program a success, including Vance Deaton who furnished the transportation for the swimming class to Pahokee; Royal's Store furnished the sound equipment, WSWN furnished records and several citizens gave of their time in judging the several contests. Mrs. Jones introduced Mrs. Gene-

FRECKLES

As a general rule freckles begin to appear between the sixth and eighth year and tend to fade during adulthood. Why they appear and disappear is Nature's secret.

Family traits determine whether or not children will freckle. When the mother or father has freckles, chances are one to one the children will have freckles. When both parents have freckles, chances are three to one that the children will be freckled.

Since freckles are inherited, it is doubtful that the summer's sun causes an increase in their number. Some people have invisible freckles and upon being exposed to the sun, they become darker and therefore more noticeable. This is the reason it is advisable for these persons to wear adequate clothing and hats when exposed to the sun.

Generally the freckles that pop out during the summer, fade during the fall and winter. However there is some evidence that repeated maximum darkening of freckles by the sun brings about permanent changes in pigment causing the freckles not to fade during the winter months.

Sun tan preparations offer no protection against freckles. These creams and lotions are intended to prevent burning, yet allow the skin to tan. The skin of the freckled person may not tan but the freckles will become darker.

The young person with freckles will do well to live happily with them, remembering that their usual drooping, skin lighteners, and bleaching preparations are available but they can be harmful, and at best, their effectiveness is questionable.

In only rare instances will freckles become so bad that they prove disfiguring. In these cases, a physician should be consulted. He will know the proper methods of removing them, but time and patience will be required. His advice must be followed carefully.

Be SAFE This Summer—ASWIM and Afloat

Don't swim away from your upset boat as this foolish man is doing. Your boat is your best life-preserver—always remember that fact! A tired person can be put on it while others swim boat slowly to shore and safety.

Roll capsized boat right side up to handle more easily for self-rescue. Wooden boat or metal one with good buoyancy tanks will stay afloat even when filled with water. Get aboard carefully and hand-paddle to shore.

DROWNING, canoeing and sailing account for almost half of each summer's needless drownings. The American Red Cross recommends: Don't ever go out in small craft unless you know how to swim.

Further business of the directors included recommendations that "stop" signs be requested from state and county officials at intersections of their respective roads. Director Parrish said that the city was taking action in its zones of responsibility.

Upon hearing a letter from Milton Carpenter in which it was suggested that the Chamber take over the Fourth of July celebration arrangements, it was decided that the Chamber as a coordinating agency should accept that responsibility. The Chamber will accept the management of the annual Independence celebration and take over the existing funds remaining from the past celebration.

Directors Curtis Chase, Dick Parrish, Mrs. Ora Powell, Elmer Jones, Julius Moeen and Ben Roberts as proxy for Mrs. Jane Ricker, attended the meeting. Chamber Secretary Mrs. Bertha Orr was present. but inevitable in progressive work of this sort. From the city bridge to Six Mile Bend work will be carried out on the north side of the canal. Excavated material will be disposed of with regard to a future possible widening of the canal under Plan Four so that material will not have to be moved twice. Excavated material will be put on the levee so as to cause least inconvenience to property owners requiring access to their homes in that area.

Plan Four

Plan Four envisions widening of the canal to approximate width of its present width. Right of way of 130 feet on either side of the center line of the canal has already been obtained with this proposed extension in view. Studies are underway to determine whether water reserves obtainable will justify Plan Four in bringing water to conservation areas 1 and 2, said Lamar Johnson. He also said that the plan may not be carried out for as long as ten years hence, although, should studies justify it, construction might begin much sooner.

POST OFFICE —

class mail, permit markings under, third class and miscellaneous receipts.

Canal Point

Percy Platt was Canal Point's first postmaster when access to the lake region was solely by canal. Established in 1917, Canal Point post office has been served by Mrs. Edna T. Barrett, Robert M. Baker, Claude C. Coleman, W. A. Baker, and Harold Rosenberg. Osceola Upthegrove is the postmaster, assisted by Miss Kansas Todd and Mrs. R. T. Smith. Canal Point is the distributing point for Port Mayaca's mail. It is anticipated that revenues will be sufficient by July 1, 1955 to raise Canal Point to the status of second class, according to Upthegrove, who has served 18 years in his post.

Postmaster Farnall at Belle Glade, only person in Florida entitled to the Dept. of Commerce 20 year pin for service to the Weather Bureau as Display-man, related how post office locations followed population centers in the community. The first Belle Glade post office was in what is now the Rutledge building, from there it moved next to the city hall where it remained for 18 years prior to removing in 1950 to its present location in property owned by the Belle Glade American Legion Post.

Removals

Pahokee has had a similar series of removals, first from Savage's store to a point near the present fire station, thence to McNabb's store where Perry Davis served as postmaster and then to a building long since burned on the present site of Nola's shop. During the postmasterhood of G. C. McLarty the post office moved three times before locating in what is now Don's Food Center. Within the past two years the location now in use has been headquarters for the U.S. Mail.

Both Pahokee and Belle Glade have sub-stations, the station in the latter city being the first in the Glades.

Mrs. J. S. Atkins was the first postmistress in Pelican Lake where Mrs. Echols now serves in that capacity. When Bryant was Azucar Mrs. Ann Geiger was first postmistress and her successor today is Mrs. Alma Wall. I. W. West is postmaster at Chosen. Eric Hartline succeeded his mother in that capacity in South Bay and Miss "Bill" Campbell serves at Lake Harbor. The post office in Bean City is in Mrs. Rose L. Armstrong's store.

Other postmasters serving Pahokee prior to Ed Jensen were:

Mrs. J. R. Poland, J. W. Larimore, George C. McLarty, W. D. Larimore, Dan Carpenter, acting, and then Jensen.
